

TITLE: A METHOD AND MEANS FOR EXPRESSING SPECIAL
POSITIVE FEELINGS

CROSS REFERENCE TO A RELATED APPLICATION

5 This application is a continuation of Serial No.
60/416,906 filed October 8, 2002.

BACKGROUND OF THE INVENTION

Gift cards and the like are typically used to express 10 special positive feelings to selected persons. While some such cards are saved by the recipient, and perhaps read over from time to time, the physical makeup of the card itself, aside from the verse inside or a picturesque cover, do not cause the recipient to even remember the donor without 15 removing the card from its envelope.

It is therefore a principal object of this invention to provide a method and means for expressing special positive feelings.

A further object of the invention is to provide a method 20 and means for expressing special positive feelings which will convey an aura of warmth and love to the recipient without opening the container with which the expression of love or other good feelings is delivered.

These and other objects will be apparent to those 25 skilled in the art.

SUMMARY OF THE INVENTION

A method of creating an expression of a positive feeling such as love towards another involves taking an empty 30 receptacle, such as a package, wrapping and enclosing the package with gift-style material, placing a note on the package expressing the positive feelings to the recipient of the package and including a request that the package remain unopened but suggesting that the unopened package is filled with the positive feelings.

5 The apparatus of this invention is a closed wrapped container, such as a package, has a written note on an exterior surface thereof advising the recipient leave the package unopened, but suggesting that the unopened package is filled with the positive feelings such as love.

10 DESCRIPTION OF THE DRAWINGS

Fig. 1 is a perspective view of a package embodying the instant invention; and

Fig. 2 is an enlarged scale perspective view of the front portion of the package of Fig. 1.

15

DESCRIPTION OF THE PREFERRED EMBODIMENT

A closed box 10 or other suitable container such as a closed envelope is preferably wrapped in a gift style wrapping material 12 having an upper surface 14. Bows 16 or 20 the like may also be used. Then, a suitable message 18, such as a poem, is placed on the package expressing the thoughts of special feelings to the recipient of the wrapped package. The message should also include a request that the package remain unopened. (Fig. 2) It should also suggest that the 25 package is filled with the special feeling, such as love. Again, the message preferably should be a poem. Samples of preferred type messages appear below.

Example 1

5 This is a very Special Gift
 That you can never see,
 The reason it's so special
 It's just for you from me.

10 Place it on your desk at work
 And when you're feeling blue
 You only have to hold this gift
 And know I think of you.

15 You never can unwrap it,
 Please leave the ribbon tied,
 Just hold this gift upon your heart
 It has my love inside.

Example 2

20 This is a very Special Gift
 That you can never see,
 The reason it's so special,
25 It's just to you from me.

30 Place it close within your reach,
 And when you're feeling blue,
 You only have to hold this gift
 And know I think of you.

35 You never can unwrap it,
 Please leave the ribbon tied,
 Just hold this gift upon your heart
 It has my love inside.

It is therefore seen that the recipient will always think of the donor whenever the package is in view, and will be filled with unexpressed thoughts of love and remembrance.

40 Accordingly, this invention will achieve its stated
objectives.
